SPRING GIVEN COLD WELCOME BY HEAVY SNOW

Gettysburg and Adams county celebrated the first day of spring today by digging out from under a two- to four-inch snow that packed in a manner designed to please the heart of a skier but which brought intensely slippery conditions for the county's motorists. Sleet fell throughout the day.

The snow started Sunday afternoon after the last day of winter dawned with 15- to 20-degree lows throughout the county. With the snow came higher temperatures followed by colder weather last night which froze the wet snow making highways as slippery as they have been at almost any time this winter.

State highway caretakers were out early Sunday afternoon with their crews to cinder the more dangerous curves and hills. Ten highway department trucks and two graders from the local state highway shed started work about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in removing the snow.

Seven Lives Lost

(By The Associated Press) Old Man Winter, shunted aside in favor of spring a day early this year, let loose with pent-up wrath today giving the nation something to remember him by—snow, rain and sub-freezing temperatures which claimed at least seven lives throughout the country.

The old fellow's swan song echoed with fury from New England—where snow fell at the rate of an inch an hour—to the deep south where a biting north wind buffeted the Texas panhandle.

The middle west battled drifting snow and treacherous sleet while snowplows bucked a blizzard in Utah.

Expect 8-Inch Fall

Three traffic deaths resulted from Indiana's worst weather of the winter. An automobilist was killed and a man died from exposure in Ohio. One storm death each was reported in Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

As spring made its official bow at 1:49 p. m. (EWT), a day early because of LEAP, it found that winter had used its last 24 hours to: blanket the New England states with snow and lead weather experts to predict an eight-inch fall before the storm abated.

Plane Forced Down

Sprinkle a steady snow in upper New York state and send a mixture of snow and sleet down on New York city. Two hundred fifty street sanding machines worked throughout the night.

Force an Army plane down at Butler, Pa., as snow and rising winds swept the Keystone state. The snow was three inches deep at midnight last night and the storm was reported "worst of the winter" at Uniontown and Johnstown. The cold checked the river rise less than four feet below flood level at Pittsburgh.

Vener Washington's streets with ice, causing several traffic collisions and delaying public transportation systems.

RED CROSS DAY AT F & T LUNCH

American Red Cross War Relief day will be observed at the F. and T. lunch, York street, on Thursday, March 23, when the entire proceeds from the business from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night will be turned over to the local Red Cross chapter.

Announcement of the observance, the third in the past three years, was made by Christ Fourlas and George Lazos, proprietors.

"This is the only way in which we can show, in a small manner, our appreciation of the work done by the Red Cross for the men in the armed forces and for their families at home," the proprietors said.

Volunteer workers from the Red Cross will act as cashiers during the special hours of the observance and all other expenses will be assumed by the restaurant owners.

The two men served with the Greek Alpine troops during the first World war.

SNOW POSTPONES SALVAGE DRIVE

The spring snow which blanketed the town today has forced the Gettysburg fire company to postpone for one week the scrap drive scheduled to be held Tuesday afternoon, it was announced today.

The drive will be held instead on March 28, weather permitting, it was stated by Vernon B. Corle, chairman of the firemen's salvage committee.

J. D. Slaybaugh, near Cashtown, paid a fine of $5 and costs this morning after pleading guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct brought Saturday night before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore by Borough Officer Lloyd Wisler.

323 County Women Serve Red Cross

Three hundred and twenty-three Adams county women gave 5,123 hours of service to the county Red Cross during February, the monthly recapitulation of activities of the volunteer workers reveals. The report was compiled by staff assistants under the direction of Mrs. Earl Bowen.

Six women gave 114 hours of volunteer work in administration; seven gave 49 hours as staff assistants; 11 worked 76 hours at the Red Cross blood donor canteen; two gave 44 hours work in home service; 11 nurses aides gave 251 hours of service and 286 women worked 4,589 hours in producing various articles including the making of 14,148 surgical dressings, 141 knitted garments, 151 sewed articles, 47 kit bags and an afghan. Thirty-four visits were made by volunteers and 168 meals were served to the blood donors and staff at the donor unit.

STOUCK-REASER LOSES MOVE IN RAILROAD CASE

The action of the Stouck-Reaser company here in directing the Pennsylvania railroad to deliver some lumber to Long's Lumber company, Catawissa, "upon paying all charges" did not relieve the local company from liability for the freight charges on the lumber to the Catawissa company, the Adams county court decided in an opinion handed down Saturday by Judge W. C. Sheely.

The opinion was based on an affidavit of defense raising questions of law filed for the Stouck-Reaser company in an action in assumption brought by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Reviews Case

The court pointed out that Stouck-Reaser ordered a consignment of lumber from Longbell Lumber company at Longview, Washington, and directed Longbell company to arrange for its transportation from Longview to Stouck-Reaser in Catawissa. The shipment was made by straight bill of lading in which the Stouck-Reaser company was named as consignee and which provided that the owner or consignee should pay the charges. The Stouck-Reaser company later directed the Pennsylvania railroad to deliver the shipment to Long's Lumber company "upon paying all charges." The railroad delivered the lumber to the Long company as directed but instead of requiring payment of all charges extended credit to the Long company. The lumber company was subsequently adjudicated bankrupt and the railroad received a dividend on account of its claim. The suit was brought to recover the balance of the charges from the Stouck-Reaser company, which denied liability for any part of the railroad's claim.

The opinion, overruling the Stouck-Reaser's affidavit of defense on questions of law did not deal with other theories of liability advanced by the railroad. The Stouck-Reaser company was directed to file an affidavit of defense to the merits within 15 days.

Other business of court included the appointment of William L. Meals, Esq., as master in the divorce action brought by Mary E. (List) Sterner versus Charles W. Sterner, both of Gettysburg.

WINS WINGS AS AIRCREWMAN ON NAVY CATALINA

(Special to The Times)

U. S. Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., March 20—In a ceremony attended by high ranking dignitaries of the U. S. Navy, James N. Welch, of Aspers, Pa., today graduated in the first class in naval aviation history to receive the silver and gold wings of a naval aircrewman following completion of operational training.

The wings, which Welch, an aviation machinist's mate, third class, will wear as a member of the crew aboard one of the Navy's Catalina patrol bombers were presented by Rear Admiral A. C. McFall, chief of Naval Air Operational Training, with headquarters here.

Combat Hero Speaks

As principal speaker for the occasion, Admiral McFall advised the young naval aircrewman to "always remember that you have received the finest training possible. Apply this training to your courage and initiative. . . . The planes in which you fly and the weapons and equipment you use are second to none. Therefore, you, as a fighting American . . . are a part of one of the most powerful attacking forces on earth."

Also addressing the graduates was Comdr. John S. Thach, famed combat hero now serving as training officer on Admiral McFall's staff, who declared: "It is with pride and confidence in you that we send you to the United States Fleet and to the ultimate and inevitable triumph over the enemy."

Enlisted in 1943

Capt. Arthur Gavin, commandant of the Jacksonville Naval Air Station, served as master of ceremonies. Bob Hope, star of radio and screen, enlivened the proceedings with timely quips and also received honorary membership in the fraternity of naval aircrewmen.

The Aspers youth, son of Mrs. Myrtle R. Welch, enlisted in the Navy on January 12, 1943, and received his "boot" training at Sampson, New York. Four College And Seminary Grads, Chaplains, Meet In New Guinea Theatre Of War

In a letter from Capt. George H. Berkeheimer, chaplain at an Army post in New Guinea and veteran of 19 months of foreign service, he tells interestingly of his experiences there and announces that he has been ordered to new duties in Australia. He tells of meeting three other Gettysburg college and seminary graduates at his New Guinea post, all of them serving as chaplains.

The letter follows in full:

Dear friends: It must be about two months since I last wrote to you. They have been months filled with activity, change and progress. It is not necessary for me to elaborate on the last named as in all probability you folks obtain much more information from the various fronts than we do. We hear enough to satisfy our natural craving for news and it is most encouraging to us even as it must be to you also.

When I speak of change I must make it plural as a number of changes have taken place lately. The change that has affected every one in this entire area is the knowledge that we will not have to stay down in this section of the world until the war is won. Smiles and expressions of hope have appeared on faces which formerly revealed only longing and hopelessness. The main topic of conversation in tents, mess halls, recreation halls or wherever men congregate, centers around the question, "How many points do you have?" We have it figured out that they are working our return to the states on the point system in order to prepare us for the rationing system which we will have to worry about when we do return.

19 Months Of Foreign Duty

Each month of service in Australia counts a point and every month in New Guinea or islands surrounding counts a point and a third. The men who are coming home in the first lot have from twenty-eight to thirty points to their credit. I just counted mine up today again because today I complete nineteen months of foreign duty, with a little over a year of that up here in Guinea. Now please don't misunderstand or misinterpret this paragraph. The boys are not letting you down. They are not running away from the task before it is finished. I could cite a number of reasons why this is a fine policy such as health and family relationships, but there is another reason why the boys down here are

Boche Bolster Strong Points In Cassino And Retake Large Hill

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 20 (AP)—The Germans have succeeded in reinforcing their remaining strong points in Cassino and have regained a hill to the west from Fifth Army troops in heavy fighting. Allied headquarters announced today.

On the town's southwestern fringe Allied infantry and armor continued to attack enemy forces holed-up in ruins in and around the Continental hotel.

About 100 German prisoners were reported taken in the battle for the wreckage of the hotel, in whose ruins the Germans had installed two tanks. Allied armor moved late yesterday against the hotel stronghold and Associated Press war correspondent Lynn Heinzerling said one enemy tank was knocked out.

Allies Hold Station

Fifth Army troops kept a firm hold on the railway station, a mile south of the town, although the Germans shelled it heavily with mortars and artillery.

The largest number of heavy bombers ever to operate from this theater took to the air yesterday when American flying Fortresses and Liberators blasted Klagenfurt and Graz in Austria and Knin and Metkovic in Yugoslavia.

Reaching across the Alps, the Americans with their fighter escort, knocked down 30 to 80 enemy fighters which gave battle in Austria.

Following-up the blow, RAF Hurricanes, Liberators and Wellingtons went out in strength last night to smash at the shipyards at Monfalcone, 10 miles west of Trieste in northern Italy, where the Germans have been assembling submarines, E-boats and armed merchantmen.

Plane Falls In Rome

Flying 1,800 sorties, the Mediterranean Allied air force yesterday destroyed 32 enemy planes altogether while losing 17. One of the enemy planes was sent crashing in flames inside Rome.

The British cruiser Orion shelled the Germans in the Littoria area of the Anzio beachhead in conjunction with Allied artillery fire. German guns there continued to lay down a harassing fire over the beachhead but Allied artillery fire drove off a small group of enemy troops that thrust at the western flank of the beachhead.

Light French Naval forces also intercepted a German convoy somewhere in the central Mediterranean, sinking three ships and probably a fourth.

Three United States patrol boats, (Please Turn to Page 2)

London, March 20 (AP)—Russian troops vaulting the Dniester river on a 31-mile front struck into Bessarabia, part of pre-war Rumania, today.

To the north the German high command announced evacuation of the outflanked defense bastion of Vinnitsa. Zhmerinka to the southwest of Vinnitsa already had fallen. The German withdrawal widened the Red army breakthrough on the middle Bug river sector, chopping off part of the Nazi line east of Proskurov.

The German communique said Vinnitsa, where the invaders had waged a stubborn defense for weeks, was evacuated according to plan after destruction of war installations—the usual German phraseology.

Frightened Rumanians Fleeing

The Red army plunge into Bessarabia posed a new threat to the Germans, as well as to the satellite government of Rumania.

As the Russians poured masses of men and equipment across the Dniester on bridges left intact by the fleeing Germans, thousands of panic-stricken Rumanian civilians were reported evacuating villages in the path of the Soviet advance and BBC transmitters appealed constantly to Rumania to desert her German ally.

Japs Driven From Large Harbors And Several Strong Airfields

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ Associated Press War Editor Twenty-one days after it started, the conquest of the Admiralty islands is over and the Allies now hold two new air-dromes and a massive harbor less than 800 miles from Japan's key Pacific base at Truk and 1,300 from the Philippine islands.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in a communique today the enemy has been driven from Lorengau, main Japanese base in the Admiralties; and there is "nothing left that is worth defending," a headquarters spokesman added.

Jap Remnant To Starve

Since dismounted cavalry units started the invasion Feb. 29, Momote airdrome on Los Negros island was captured, "Big Seadler" harbor, possibly capable of containing the entire U. S. battle fleet, was secured and finally Lorengau airdrome and township were won.

Vanquished enemy troops remain in the Admiralties but face starvation or ultimate destruction by the Americans who hold all the strategically valuable positions and can cut off most Japanese escape attempts.

Fall of the Admiralties puts additional terror in the hearts of Japanese defenders of Wewak, main Japanese air and supply base in northern New Guinea. Allied planes based in the Admiralties can put an additional clamp on the blockade of Wewak.

Already, the Wewak defenders are getting mighty tired of the war. For eight consecutive days, Allied planes have ripped and torn the base with 1,200 tons of explosives. More than 200 tons went into the last reported raid and again, there was no air interception.

Bomb Paramushiro On the opposite end of Japan's Pacific defense line, Paramushiro in the northern Kurile islands was bombed for the third consecutive day. Other Pacific planes pounded (Please Turn to Page 5)

H. G. KETTERMAN DIES SATURDAY

Harry C. Ketterman, 58, Biglerville R. 2, died at the Warner hospital Saturday evening at 6 o'clock from a complication of diseases. He had been in ill health six weeks and was admitted to the hospital last Tuesday.

The deceased was born and always resided in Adams county, a son of the late John and Sarah (Lady) Ketterman. He practiced farming all of his life.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Cecil Stover and Mrs. Allen Miller, both of Arendtsville; four brothers, Samuel, Abilene, Kansas; Charles, Greenwich, Ohio; John, York, and Calvin, who resided with his brother.

The Stouck-Reaser company later directed the Pennsylvania railroad to deliver the shipment to Long's Lumber company "upon paying all charges." The railroad delivered the lumber to the Long company as directed but instead of requiring payment of all charges extended credit to the Long company. The lumber company was subsequently adjudicated bankrupt and the railroad received a dividend on account of its claim. The suit was brought to recover the balance of the charges from the Stouck-Reaser company, which denied liability for any part of the railroad's claim.

The opinion, overruling the Stouck-Reaser's affidavit of defense on questions of law did not deal with other theories of liability advanced by the railroad. The Stouck-Reaser company was directed to file an affidavit of defense to the merits within 15 days.

Other business of court included the appointment of William L. Meals, Esq., as master in the divorce action brought by Mary E. (List) Sterner versus Charles W. Sterner, both of Gettysburg.

WINS WINGS AS AIRCREWMAN ON NAVY CATALINA

(Special to The Times)

U. S. Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., March 20—In a ceremony attended by high ranking dignitaries of the U. S. Navy, James N. Welch, of Aspers, Pa., today graduated in the first class in naval aviation history to receive the silver and gold wings of a naval aircrewman following completion of operational training.

The wings, which Welch, an aviation machinist's mate, third class, will wear as a member of the crew aboard one of the Navy's Catalina patrol bombers were presented by Rear Admiral A. C. McFall, chief of Naval Air Operational Training, with headquarters here.

Combat Hero Speaks

As principal speaker for the occasion, Admiral McFall advised the young naval aircrewman to "always remember that you have received the finest training possible. Apply this training to your courage and initiative. . . . The planes in which you fly and the weapons and equipment you use are second to none. Therefore, you, as a fighting American . . . are a part of one of the most powerful attacking forces on earth."

Also addressing the graduates was Comdr. John S. Thach, famed combat hero now serving as training officer on Admiral McFall's staff, who declared: "It is with pride and confidence in you that we send you to the United States Fleet and to the ultimate and inevitable triumph over the enemy."

Four College And Seminary Grads, Chaplains, Meet In New Guinea Theatre Of War

In a letter from Capt. George H. Berkheimer, chaplain at an Army post in New Guinea and veteran of 19 months of foreign service, he tells interestingly of his experiences there and announces that he has been ordered to new duties in Australia. He tells of meeting three other Gettysburg college and seminary graduates at his New Guinea post, all of them serving as chaplains.

The letter follows in full:

Dear friends: It must be about two months since I last wrote to you. They have been months filled with activity, change and progress. It is not necessary for me to elaborate on the last named as in all probability you folks obtain much more information from the various fronts than we do. We hear enough to satisfy our natural craving for news and it is most encouraging to us even as it must be to you also.

When I speak of change I must make it plural as a number of changes have taken place lately. The change that has affected every one in this entire area is the knowledge that we will not have to stay down in this section of the world until the war is won. Smiles and expressions of hope have appeared on faces which formerly revealed

Reds In Old Rumania; Admiralty Isles Clear; Nazis Stay In Cassino

By E. B. SULLIVAN

London, March 20 (AP)—Russian troops vaulting the Dniester river on a 31-mile front struck into Bessarabia, part of pre-war Rumania, today.

To the north the German high command announced evacuation of the outflanked defense bastion of Vinnitsa. Zhmerinka to the southwest of Vinnitsa already had fallen. The German withdrawal widened the Red army breakthrough on the middle Bug river sector, chopping off part of the Nazi line east of Proskurov.

The German communique said Vinnitsa, where the invaders had waged a stubborn defense for weeks, was evacuated according to plan after destruction of war installations—the usual German phraseology.

Frightened Rumanians Fleeing

The Red army plunge into Bessarabia posed a new threat to the Germans, as well as to the satellite government of Rumania.

As the Russians poured masses of men and equipment across the Dniester on bridges left intact by the fleeing Germans, thousands of panic-stricken Rumanian civilians were reported evacuating villages in the path of the Soviet advance and BBC transmitters appealed constantly to Rumania to desert her German ally.

Japs Driven From Large Harbors And Several Strong Airfields

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ

Associated Press War Editor Twenty-one days after it started, the conquest of the Admiralty islands is over and the Allies now hold two new air-dromes and a massive harbor less than 800 miles from Japan's key Pacific base at Truk and 1,300 from the Philippine islands.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in a communique today the enemy has been driven from Lorengau, main Japanese base in the Admiralties, and there is "nothing left that is worth defending," a headquarters spokesman added.

Jap Remnant To Starve

Since dismounted cavalry units started the invasion Feb. 29, Momote airdrome on Los Negros island was captured, big Seadler harbor, possibly capable of containing the entire U. S. battle fleet, was secured and finally Lorengau airdrome and township were won.

Vanquished enemy troops remain in the Admiralties but face starvation or ultimate destruction by the Americans who hold all the strategically valuable positions and can cut off most Japanese escape attempts.

Fall of the Admiralties puts additional terror in the hearts of Japanese defenders of New Guinea, main Japanese air and supply base in northern New Guinea. Allied planes based in the Admiralties can put an additional clamp on the blockade of Newak.

Already, the Newak defenders are getting mighty tired of the war. For eight consecutive days, Allied planes have ripped and torn the base with 1,200 tons of explosives. More than 200 tons went into the last reported raid and again, there was no air interception.

Bomb Paramushiro

On the opposite end of Japan's Pacific defense line, Paramushiro in the northern Kurile islands was bombed for the third consecutive day. Other Pacific planes pounded (Please Turn to Page 5)

H. C. KETTERMAN DIES SATURDAY

Harry C. Ketterman, 58, Biglerville R. 2, died at the Warner hospital Saturday evening at 6 o'clock from a complication of diseases. He had been in ill health six weeks and was admitted to the hospital last Tuesday.

The deceased was born and always resided in Adams county, a son of the late John and Sarah (Lady) Ketterman. He practiced farming all of his life.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Cecil Stover and Mrs. Allen Miller, both of Gettysburg; four brothers, Samuel, Abilene, Kansas; Charles, Greenview, Ohio; John, York, and Calvin, who resided with his brother.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock conducted by the Rev. A. R. Longenecker. Interment in Flohr's cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening after 7 o'clock.

Germans and Rumanians were slain yesterday—many being hurled into the Dniester to perish—in a surge which overwhelmed more than 40 Bessarabian villages. The advance apparently confronted the Nazis in the Odessa sector to the southeast with the threat of a major debacle as the Russians headed for the Danube estuary in an effort to wall off the Nazis line of retreat into lower Rumania.

Advance in Poland

Far to the north, in old Poland meanwhile, Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukrainian Army was reported poised for a drive on Lwow after capturing the hilltop fortress of Kremenets, 70 miles to the north-east, and sweeping forward another 10 miles to seize a village.

The German-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph bureau quoted frontline reports to Berlin as saying that the Russians also had nearly completed preparations for a big new offensive on the northern front, which has not been mentioned in Soviet communiques since the Red army several weeks ago was reported besieging the rail hub of Pskov gateway to the Baltics.

Big Battle In Burma Looms

New Delhi, March 20 (AP)—The biggest battle fought in Burma since the Allies were driven out two years ago apparently was developing along the Chin Hills frontier of India today where the Japanese have crossed the Chindwin river in force at several points.

Stung by the loss of the Hukawng valley and 4,000 casualties in Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's victorious four-months North Burma campaign, the Japanese obviously were attempting to break through the jungle and reach the supply line which feeds not only Stilwell's forces but also those of Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault in China.

The Japanese were advancing in two main directions, northward along the west side of the Chindwin toward the British base of Imphal, and westward from a point farther between Homalin and Timantli.

Gross Voted For Soldier Vote Bill

Congressman Chester H. Gross was recorded as voting "no" on two controversial measures that came before the House of Representatives for decision last week, according to an Associated Press news dispatch from Washington.

He voted against an amendment to the first deficiency appropriation bill to increase the federal works agency appropriation for community facilities to $127,500,000. The amendment was approved by a vote of 269 to 15.

On a motion to recommit the first deficiency appropriation bill, defeated by a 156-128 vote, he was listed as not voting. He also opposed a bill to authorize investigation of living conditions and financial status of the Indians which was approved 200 to 100. He voted with all other House Republicans for the conference report on the soldier vote bill which was opposed by all Democrats. The bill was approved 273-111. Senator Davis voted for and Guffey against the conference report on the ballot bill.

SIGNS POINT TO EARLY MEETING OF BIG THREE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Associated Press War Analyst)

There would seem to be close connection between the rapidity with which Hitler's tribulations are mounting and the report in London of the diplomatic quarters that Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill may meet again soon.

The European war is moving mightily fast, and it's gaining momentum. What with the blood-letting being inflicted on the Germans by the tireless Red armies, and the hell that's being poured into Hitlerdom by the Anglo-American air forces, we stand at a moment when great events can happen without warning.

It's reasonable, therefore, that the Big Three should want to check up with one another and (perhaps) on one another. This is the crucial time when each of the trio must know exactly what's in the minds of the others—when none can afford to fall out of step.

Political Problems

We are approaching big new problems which the three, with their expert advisers, may be able to deal with best in a face-to-face meeting. Both military and international political questions are piling up, and of these the political are probably the more troublesome.

Now of course this is no time to start a victory parade up Broadway. We've got bloody work ahead of us. Still, the Allies must make plans for eventualities well in advance of the events. One thing they've got to know is exactly what happens when Hitler yells "Kamerad" as yell he will in due course. Just how is the Reich going to be dealt with, and what part is each ally to play? Europe's future may depend on that.

Doing "the impossible" However, the Red dummies aren't at the German border yet, by a long shot, although Hitler's right wing in southern Russia is being so ripped to pieces that he is suffering one of his worst defeats of the war. Momentous events could develop from this situation, but caution warns us to take things as they come and not outrun the battle in wishful thinking.

The big news as this is written is that the onrushing Red forces are actually in Rumania, having crossed the great Danube river and smashed through the German defenses on a front of more than 30 miles. The Muscovites thus have performed the "impossible," and have given us a stark picture of Red striking-power and Nazi waning strength.

Weddings

Dieffenderfer-Richards

On Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the chapel of the Student Christian Association on the Gettysburg college campus, Miss Irene Dieffenderfer, Lewisburg, and Dr. Arthur C. Richards, Jr., Philadelphia and Littlestown, were united in marriage by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh.

The bride wore a powder blue suit and an orchid. She was attended by her sister, Vesta, also of Lewisburg, who wore a yellow suit and gardenias. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, James Rule. A fraternity brother of Dr. Richards, Paul Young, was the best man. Mrs. Robert Deardorff played the organ.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Green Parrot tea room in Emmitsburg.

The bride is a registered nurse and has been working in the Williamsport hospital.

Dr. Richards graduated from Gettysburg college in 1939. While there he was a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and was president of the senior class. He then went to Jefferson Medical school in Philadelphia, and completed his internship at the Williamsport hospital.

After the wedding trip, the bride and groom will be at home in Littlestown. Dr. Richards is to open his office there on April 1 in the office of the late Dr. H. S. Crouse.

daringly penetrating the Ligurean sea off the northwestern Italian coast, sank a lighter in an attack on a convoy of two lighters and two E-boats. Another enemy E-boat was sunk by American patrol boats west of Anzio.

Retake Old Hill

Other German strong points assaulted by Allied forces at Cassino included a Ducal palace on the south side of highway 6—the road to Rome—which runs south of Cassino and the ancient Roman amphitheater, north of the road.

The Germans recaptured hill 165, a bitterly-contested height, which has changed hands several times since the Allied onslaught against Cassino began in earnest last Wednesday. Allied troops had retaken the hill Friday after being flung from it by vicious enemy counter-attacks the previous day.

Ten enemy tanks were spotted about four miles west of the town and were dispersed by artillery.

In Cassino itself, large numbers of German prisoners were taken yesterday and Heinzerling said the struggle seemed to have "taken a fresh turn in favor of Allied arms."

anxious to change places with some of their brothers still in the states. This is a wonderful experience.

No school in the country could have the broadening influence upon us that these months of living in the jungles have had upon us. Now we do not desire to be selfish. We want to share this life with others. Therefore after about two years of service down here we will have no compunctions of conscience whatsoever if we are told to prepare for a trip to the "Old Country." We will give thanks for the privilege that has been ours to have served in our respective posts and at the same time ask God's blessing upon our brave comrades who take over and carry on to victory.

To Be Moved

Another change has taken place recently that is more or less personal. I have received word that I am to be moved out of this post. Here is the new address: Chaplain's Section, Hq. USASOS, APO 501, San Francisco, California. We are expecting my successor daily and then it will not be long until I will start for Australia. I have mingled feelings as I contemplate the move.

Many friendships have been formed here and it is not easy to part from the fellows who have been so faithful in attending Divine Worship. They know I am not running out on them from any expressed personal desire. In the army we don't question orders, we obey them. I was with them during the really exciting time at this place in New Guinea. Now we are just about as safe here as you are back home. I am going to miss our church buildings—office, quarters, chapel, etc. The coconut palms waving lazily in the breeze, the water of the bay washing over the coral beaches, the tropical sunsets than which there are none more entrancing, the natives with their friendly—if not beautiful—faces and their peculiar odors, these and many other things will be only memories—but they will be lasting memories. On the other hand there will probably be things to compensate for these losses. I will no longer be able to work as closely with the fellows as formerly for the new post is in our next higher headquarters and it will be mostly office work. They have never had a chaplain in this office who has had experience in the forward areas so I am hoping that by serving the chaplains I will thereby serve the men at least indirectly.

Meets Gettysburg Grads

We had a Chaplain's Conference yesterday in the area with fifty-nine chaplains in attendance. That is a mark for the Adams County Ministerium to strive to reach. Here is another goal. We had Roman Catholics, Jews and every shade of Protestantism under the sun, represented in that assembly. It was my privilege, as Base Chaplain, to preside over the assembly and it was not such an unwieldy group to handle. As a matter of fact they voted unanimously to meet monthly. We have our individual ministeriums also. The Roman Catholics meet weekly, the Protestants bi-weekly. Then of course we Lutherans have to have a meeting of our own so we meet monthly.

There are twelve of us here in the base. It is interesting to note that four of us were in Gettysburg college and seminary together: Edwin Clapper, Air Corps, Class of '36; Frank Hesel, Army, Class of '37; Robert Sassaman, Navy, Class of '38 and myself, Army, Class of '38. These are the years we graduated from Seminary.

More Christmas Mail

On Friday the Protestant Chaplains are holding an all day retreat at a Native Mission Station. We will be the guests of an Australian business man who has been very influential in the work of this particular mission over a period of years. A few days ago it was my privilege to hear an expression of the native's Christianity. Several of us were visiting a Native Labor Camp. The man in charge had a native male choir of approximately thirty voices sing for us. Most of their numbers were hymns as "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Silent Night, Holy Night," etc. Some of the hymns they sang in English, others in the Motuan tongue. It is a combination of their many dialects, or perhaps I should say a cross section, and the only vehicle of intercommunication between members of different tribes. The hymns were rendered in perfect time and pitch and with deep religious feeling. Many of us confessed to having damp eyes when they finished singing "Silent Night." The missionaries who instructed them must have been students of Music as well as teachers of Religion.

In bringing this letter to a close, for it is long past bed time, let me say "Thank-you" for the scores of friends who have sent me Christmas greetings which greetings I have not yet been able to acknowledge. A lot of Christmas mail reached us in November and December but a seemingly equal amount delayed up only last week. They still carry the same significance and we are deeply appreciative of your thoughtfulness.

At the beginning of this Lenten period may we one and all bow humbly before the Throne of Grace in a sincere feeling of penitence in order that we may rise therefrom strengthened in our faith in God and worthy of being His representatives to bring His principles of

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(Associated Press War Analyst)

There would seem to be close connection between the rapidity with which Hitler's tribulations are mounting and the report in London's diplomatic quarters that Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill may meet again soon.

The European war is moving mightily fast, and it's gaining momentum. What with the blood-letting being inflicted on the Germans by the tireless Red armies, and the hell that's being poured into Hitlerdom by the Anglo-American air forces, we stand at a moment when great events can happen without warning.

It's reasonable, therefore, that the Big Three should want to check up with one another and (perhaps) on one another. This is the crucial time when each of the trio must know exactly what's in the minds of the others—when none can afford to fall out of step.

Political Problems

We are approaching big new problems which the three, with their expert advisers, may be able to deal with best in a face-to-face meeting. Both military and international political questions are piling up, and of these the political are probably the more troublesome.

Now of course this is no time to start a victory parade on Broadway. We've got bloody work ahead of us. Still, the Allies must make plans for eventualities well in advance of the events. One thing they've got to know is exactly what happens when Hitler yells "Kamerad," as yells he will in due course. Just how is the Reich going to be dealt with, and what part is each ally to play? Europe's future may depend on that.

Doing "the Impossible"

However, the Red armies aren't at the German border yet, by a long shot, although Hitler's right wing in southern Russia is being so ripped to pieces that he is suffering one of his worst defeats of the war. Momentous events could develop from this situation, but caution warns us to take things as they come and not outrun the battle in wishful thinking.

The big news as this is written is that the onrushing Red forces are actually in Rumania, having crossed the great Danube river and smashed through the German defenses on a front of more than 30 miles. The Muscovites thus have performed the "impossible" and have given us a stark picture of Red striking-power and Nazi waning strength.

Weddings

Dieffenderfer—Richards

On Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the chapel of the Student Christian Association on the Gettysburg college campus, Miss Irene Dieffenderfer, Lewisburg, and Dr. Arthur C. Richards, Jr., Philadelphia and Littlestown, were united in marriage by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh.

The bride wore a powder blue suit and an orchid. She was attended by her sister, Vesta, also of Lewisburg, who wore a yellow suit and gardenias. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, James Rule. A fraternity brother of Dr. Richards, Paul Young, was the best man. Mrs. Robert Deardorff played the organ.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Green Parrot tea room in Emmitsburg.

The bride is a registered nurse and has been working in the Williamsport hospital.

Dr. Richards graduated from Gettysburg college in 1939. While there he was a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and was president of the senior class. He then went to Jefferson Medical school in Philadelphia, and completed his internship at the Williamsport hospital.

After the wedding trip, the bride and groom will be at home in Littlestown. Dr. Richards is to open his office there on April 1 in the office of the late Dr. H. S. Crouse.

daringly penetrating the Ligurian sea off the northwestern Italian coast, sank a lighter in an attack on a convoy of two lighters and two E-boats. Another enemy E-boat was sunk by American patrol boats west of Anzio.

Retake Old Hill

Other German strong points assailed by Allied forces at Cassino included a Duca Palace on the south side of highway 6—the road to Rome—which runs south of Cassino and the ancient Roman amphitheater, north of the road.

The Germans recaptured hill 165, a bitterly-contested height which has changed hands several times since the Allied onslaught against Cassino began in earnest last Wednesday. Allied troops had retaken the hill Friday after being flung from it by vicious enemy counter-attacks the previous day.

Ten enemy tanks were spotted about four miles west of the town and were dispersed by artillery.

In Cassino itself, large numbers of German prisoners were taken yesterday and Heinzeling said the struggle seemed to have "taken a fresh turn in favor of Allied arms."

These are the years we graduated from Seminary.

More Christmas Mail

On Friday the Protestant Chaplains are holding an all day retreat at a Native Mission Station. We will be the guests of an Australian business man who has been very influential in the work of this particular mission over a period of years. A few days ago it was my privilege to hear an expression of the native's Christianity. Several of us were visiting a Native Labor Camp. The man in charge had a native male choir of approximately thirty voices sing for us. Most of their numbers were hymns as "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Silent Night, Holy Night," etc. Some of the hymns they sang in English, others in the Motuan tongue. It is a combination of their many dialects, or perhaps I should say a cross section, and the only vehicle of intercommunication between members of different tribes. The hymns were rendered in deep tone and pitch and with perfect religious feeling. Many of us confessed to having damp eyes when they finished singing "Silent Night." The missionaries who instructed them must have been students of Music as well as teachers of Religion.

In bringing this letter to a close, for it is long past bed time, let me say "Thank-you" for the scores of friends who have sent me Christmas greetings which greetings I have not yet been able to acknowledge. A lot of Christmas mail reached us in November and December but a seemingly equal amount delayed up only last week. They still carry the same significance and we are deeply appreciative of your thoughtfulness.

At the beginning of this Lenten period may we one and all bow humbly before the Throne of Grace in a sincere feeling of repentance in order that we may rise therefrom strengthened in our faith in God and worthy of being His representatives to bring His principles of

is a very important letter in this war.

It's the name of the War Bonds you buy—"War Savings Bond Series E."

As you know, a Series E Bond will work for you for ten full years, piling up interest all that time, till finally you'll get four dollars back for every three you put up. Pretty nice.

The first job of the money you put into "E" is, of course, to help finance the war. But it also gives you a wonderful way to save money.

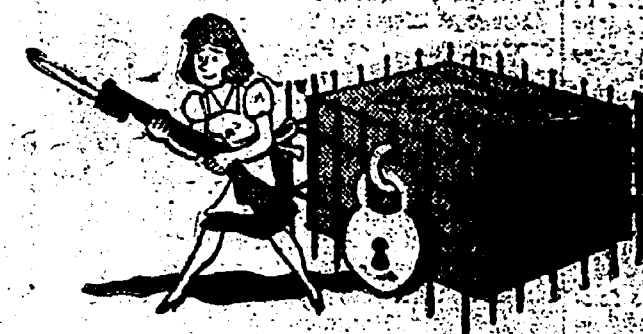

And when the war is over, that money you now put away can do another job, can help America swing over from war to peace.

There'll come a day when you'll bless these Bonds—when they may help you over a tough spot.

That's why you should make up your mind to hang on to every Bond you buy. You can, of course, cash in your Bonds any time after you've held them for 60 days. You get all your money back, and, after one year, all your money plus interest.

But when you cash in a Bond, you end its life before its full job is done. You don't give it its chance to help you and the country in the years that lie ahead.

You kill off its $4-for-every-$3 earning power.

All of which it's good to remember when you might be tempted to cash in some of your War Bonds. They are yours, to do what you want with.

But... it's ABC sense that...

They'll do the best job for you and for America if you let them reach the full flower of maturity!

An Evening Thought

Gratitude is a soil on which joy thrives.—Auerbach.

Just Folks

THE NURSE
She follows the soldier where danger is dire.

She crawls as he crawls under barriers of wire.

She sails where he sails and she flies where he flies.

And sometimes in battle beside him she dies.

Oh, there is no glory of skill or of purse

And no service more honored than that of the nurse!

She slogs through the mud and the snow and the rain.

Her ear is attuned to the whimper of pain.

If brave is the soldier of land, sky and sea,

Then as brave and as steadfast to duty is she.

The lips of the wounded her glory rehearse:

The woman whose lifework is mercy the nurse!

She serves 'neath the decks of great warships at sea.

Wherever man ventures behind him she'll be.

She's known in the jungle, the fox-hole, the beach.

There's no post of duty her hand cannot reach.

Without her devotion war's horrors were worse.

So here's to that angel of mercy—the nurse!

Today's Talk

"CIHU"
A reader has sent to me an interesting little booklet entitled "Let's All CIHU." Intrigued with the title, I read it through. It was written by Frank C. Laubach, and he states that it is "A secret word that would save the world."

Says the author: "Whenever you come across a dangerous rifle, reach out with a friendly CIHU (K'choo); persuade others to CIHU with you. Do your bit to make this a world-wide movement."

Well, who thought of this word and this movement? I don't know. But it appears good, for this is what CIHU means—Can I Help You? So this is the way it works: When you meet someone who seems down in the mouth, or is confused, you merely say CIHU to him and that starts things. I can see where this should prove a useful and popular society to belong to. Instinctively every soldier in the front lines, and behind them, has long lived its spirit, and practiced its spirit.

We are not going to get far in our efforts for "a brave New World" unless we take as our objective the bringing about of a cooperative spirit of good will and understanding among all peoples—striving for that kind of human brotherhood that is embodied in this little word CIHU—Can I Help You?

The man or woman doesn't live who does not need help of some sort or who does not welcome it. But it isn't money help for which so many crave. It's help in their personal problems, help to get them on the right track and directed to the right road. Nearly every one of us can point to some particular person or friend who, in the past, has been the means of much of our success and happiness—someone who gave us a boost at the right time.

Many years ago, a friend and I had a breakdown in our car in Florida, twenty miles from the nearest garage. It was getting chilly, the road was almost impassable, and we were expecting that we might have to spend the night on that spot. But soon another car stopped before us and a man got out and said: "Can I Help You?" He happened to be a car mechanic and soon had us on our way!

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Borough Election: The following is the result of the election held in the borough of Gettysburg on Friday last:

Judge
Michael Newman, Whig, 174; S. Powers, Loco, 119.

Inspector
G. W. McClellan, Whig, 179; J. H. Beighly, Loco, 109.

Assessor
Q. Armstrong, Whig, 182; D. Kandlehart, 109.

Constables
Joseph Slentz, Whig, 206; H. M. Craig, Loco, 98; S. Witherow, 191; E. Robinson, Loco, 59.

Average Whig majority 87!

Died: On Tuesday morning, Mr. Christian Chritzman, an old and respected citizen of this borough, in the 84th year of his age.

The water was let into the Pennsylvania Canal on Monday, and it is thought that the whole line, from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, would be ready for transportation by this day, if not earlier.

Married: On the 14th inst., by the Rev. B. Keller, Mr. George Lay, of Franklin township, to Miss Elizabeth Plank, of Cumberland township.

Mr. Galloway: It gives us pleasure to state that our former townsman, Mr. Samuel Galloway (son of Mr. John Galloway), has been elected secretary of state in Ohio by the Legislature of that state—receiving 55 votes, his opponent, 47. We wish our young and talented friend joy in his deserved elevation.

The news of the great explosion on board the Princeton was conveyed from Washington to Portland (Maine), a distance of 554 miles, in 46 hours!

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Borough Election: The election for borough officers on Friday passed off quietly, resulting, as usual, in a decisive Republican triumph. The interest centered mainly in the contest for constable. We are requested by Mr. Crilly to say, what we believe is the fact, that he did not desire an election and expressed his determination not to accept if elected. The vote was as follows:

Burgess
C. H. Buehler, Rep., 249; H. Chritzman, Dem., 157.

Town Council
J. W. Cress, Rep., 241; John Welch, Dem., 188; Robert Tate, Rep., 215; Jacob Reiley, Dem., 188.

Judge
Jeremiah Culp, Rep., 232; Samuel Wolf, Dem., 168.

Inspector
W. L. Kling, Rep., 233; J. W. Gilbert, Dem., 169.

School Directors
J. Aughinbaugh, Rep., 3 yrs., 236; R. D. Armbr., Dem., 3 yrs., 178; Hiram Warren, Rep., 3 yrs., 234; Samuel Faber, Jr., Dem., 3 yrs., 166; A. M. Hunter, Rep., 2 yrs., 236; J. W. C. O'Neal, Dem., 2 yrs., 170.

Assessor
Wm. F. Baker, Rep., 217; Wm. T. Ziegler, Dem., 190.

Constables
Geo. W. Welkert, Rep., 180; Charles E. Gilbert, Dem., 166; Michael Crilly, Rep., 171; James M. Rouzer, Ind., 255.

Married: Chromster—Haines—On the 4th inst., by J. C. Pittenturf, Esq., Mr. Jacob H. Chromster, of Reading township, to Miss Alice J. Haines, of Huntington township.

It is stated that the National Guard regiment of Philadelphia propose to take their summer holiday by a pilgrimage to Gettysburg and a week of camp duty.

We notice by the Chambersburg papers that Mr. Calvin Gilbert, formerly of Gettysburg, has purchased the foundry and machine shop of the Chambersburg Building Association for $11,700. Mr. Gilbert has since taken in with him the firm of H. S. Gilbert and Co., and united the agricultural establishment of that firm with the machine shop.

In Pennsylvania the question of women holding office is about to be given a practical solution. Miss Maria L. Sanford, a young lady who has been teaching public school in Chester county, is urged for county superintendent of common schools. There is nothing in the laws of the state preventing a woman from holding office, and she is strongly supported for the position.

Concord, New Hampshire, gives partial recognition to the rights of women, by electing two female school directors.

Changes: Quite a number of changes in places of business will be made this spring. Mr. T. C. Norris has already removed his ready-made clothing store to Arnold's corner.

Mr. R. C. Colban will remove his hat and shoe store to the building on Baltimore street, recently occupied by Mr. Fiestel.

Messrs. Baker, Fiestel and Tolbert have rebuilt the Forge property below the foundry and have it in running order.

Messrs. Stallsmith & Son, York

street, and William Chritzman, Washington street, carpenters, have been introducing improved machinery—the former a new and improved circular saw, and latter steam power—designed to facilitate the rapid turning out of work.

New Store: Wm. B. Meals has opened a grocery store on the east end of York street.

CARD CHANGES
Pittsburgh, March 20 (AP)—Matchmaker Jake Mintz reported two changes in tonight's boxing card at the Gardens as Aaron Solter was ordered to take his physical examination for the draft and Juste Fontaine, of Milwaukee, became ill of influenza.

42 GOVERNORS

ANSWER FDR'S QUIZ ON BALLOT

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Forty-two governors have replied to President Roosevelt's query about service voting and the trend of their opinion appears to be that state ballots "distributed" under the federal machinery would give a vote to most service men and women.

Mr. Roosevelt had inquired whether the states would accept Federal ballots from the armed forces. Six governors replied affirmatively for the states of California, Maryland, North Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Kansas.

The governors of 13 states said no legislative action is planned to validate Federal ballots even if the President signs the bill and indicated state legislation would meet the service vote problem. These states were Iowa, Idaho, Illinois, Georgia, Virginia, Mississippi, West Virginia, Arizona, Wisconsin, Colorado, Minnesota, Ohio and Montana.

Many governors were noncommittal and the White House said no replies had been received from South Carolina, Tennessee, Michigan, Texas, Wyoming or Oregon, at the time the general report of the poll was made.

President Roosevelt has left no doubt that his decision either to accept or veto the Federal ballot measure would hinge on the question of whether more service personnel would vote under it than under the 1942 law which merely waived state registration and poll tax requirements, leaving absentee balloting entirely to the states.

Gov. Edward Martin, of Pennsylvania, said it was his desire to take whatever "appropriate action is necessary before July 15 to afford all our men and women in the armed services the opportunity to vote."

Letters To The Editor
Dear Sir:

It is with the greatest pleasure that I am writing this letter to you. I want to thank you for sending me The Gettysburg Times. When a fellow gets away from home, he reads every bit of news from his home town that he can find, even though advertisements contain some interest. You are truly doing a great service to "Our Country" by building the boys' morale. Yes, you are helping to build our morale. Those little things, such as a local paper and letters from home, may seem insignificant to you, but to us, they are important.

I have just completed a seven-week course in Aerial Gunnery at Kingman, Arizona, which is on the edge of the Mohave desert, and I am telling you now that the Gettysburg Times was a choice piece of mail for me.

I also want to notify you of my change of address. I am now attending Central Instructors School here at Fort Myers, Florida. When I complete this course, I will be sent to some other field to be an instructor, in aerial gunnery.

Again I want to thank you for sending me The Gettysburg Times. Respectfully yours,

Cpt. Robert J. Bringham.

First Change In State Cabinet Looms
Harrisburg, March 20 (AP)—Governor Martin will have the first change in his cabinet since he was inaugurated in January, 1943, if Samuel Y. Ramage, of Oil City, secretary of Public Assistance, gets into the Army.

Ramage, 34, disclosed he was rejected by Army physicians but has asked for re-examination and expects a decision within a week.

In event of a vacancy in the $10,000 cabinet post, an authorized source said the Governor might transfer another cabinet official to the assistance post or appoint a new cabinet member—one not now holding a state post. The spokesman declined to discuss personalities in connection with the possible vacancy.

U. S. Will Purchase Surplus Potatoes
Harrisburg, March 18 (AP)—The Agriculture Adjustment agency expects to start the purchase of surplus potatoes in Pennsylvania in Somerset and Cambria counties this week-end.

AAA State Secretary John A. Smith said Thursday night Shelton R. Poole, Hollidaysburg, a field man will supervise the buying for sugar beet factories in Ohio in sections where potatoes have started to sprout in storage. A half million bushels, grown in 1943, will be bought under the program at prices ranging from $2.40 to $1.44 a hundredweight, less 35 cents due to bulk purchases.

The surplus potatoes will be made into industrial alcohol for the manufacture of munitions.

WAVE Cleared Of Kidnaping Charge
Croydon, Pa., March 20 (AP)—Twenty-two year old Edith Toy awaited freedom—and marriage—today, apparently cleared of a kidnaping charge in the disappearance of Charlotte Susan Garon, four, from her Bucks county home.

"Maybe I'll get married after all," the former WAVE smiled after Anthony Russo, chief of county detectives, said the charges would be withdrawn because "this is no case of kidnaping at all."

Miss Toy was arrested Saturday at Camden, N. J., after the little girl was found in her custody, and was to be arraigned here today.

She would talk about her intended husband except to say, "he's a sailor"—like little Charlotte's father—"and I've known him for six years."

Russo said Miss Toy took Charlotte for "a little visit" with full permission of the child's mother, Mrs. Sofia Garon, 28, who had met Miss Toy on a train but didn't know her name.

SIMPLIFIED TAX

PLAN PRAISED AND ASSAILED

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Acclaimed generally on Capitol Hill as the small taxpayers' dream come true, a plan to roll down the income tax laws was assailed by Rep. Curtis (R-Neb.) today as containing an "unfair and immoral" provision.

Curtis, a member of the special House Republican committee on taxes, voiced the first dissident words since the Ways and Means committee made the plan public last week. He said he heartily approved the objective of freeing some 20,000,000 taxpayers from having to wrestle with another income tax report.

But he roundly denounced a provision allowing every taxpayer a deduction of 10 per cent of income subject to withholding taxes to offset usual allowances for contributions to religious, charitable and similar organizations.

Declaring a blanket deduction "is unfair and immoral," Curtis said: "It is fundamentally wrong to treat givers and non-givers alike."

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, ranking Republican on the tax-framing Finance committee, spoke enthusiastically of the House committee proposal, as did Senator Millican (R-Colo.), a member of the same committee.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau hailed the new proposal as "well conceived and intelligently planned" and predicted it would be "a great boon to the country."

Just Folks

THE NURSE
She follows the soldier where danger
is dire,
She crawls as he crawls under barriers
of wire,
She sails where he sails and she flies where he flies,
And sometimes in battle beside him
she dies,
Oh, there is no glory of skill or of prow,
And no service more honored than that of the nurse!

She slogs through the mud and the snow and the rain,
Her ear is attuned to the whimper
of pain,
If brave is the soldier of land, sky
and sea,
Then as brave and as steadfast to duty is she,
The lips of the wounded her glory
rehearse:
The woman whose lifework is mercy
the nurse!

She serves 'neath the decks of great warships at sea,
Wherever man ventures behind him
she'll be,
She's known in the jungle, the foxhole, the beach,
There's no post of duty her hand
cannot reach,
Without her devotion war's horrors
were worse,
So here's to that angel of mercy—
the nurse!

Today's Talk

"CIHU"

A reader has sent to me an interesting little booklet entitled "Let's All CIHU." Intrigued with the title,
I read it through. It was written by Frank C. Laubach, and he states that it is "A secret word that would save the world."

Says the author: "Whenever you come across a dangerous rift, reach out with a friendly CIHU (Ky-hoo); persuade others to CIHU with you.
Do your bit to make this a worldwide movement."

Well, who thought of this word and this movement? I don't know.
But it appears good, for this is what CIHU means — Can I Help
You? So this is the idea it works:
When you meet someone who seems down in the mouth, or is confused, you merely say CIHU to him and that starts things. I can see where this should prove a useful and popular society to belong to. Instinctively every soldier in the front lines, and behind them, has long lived its spirit, and practiced its spirit.

We are not going to get far in our efforts for "a brave New World" unless we take as our objective the bringing about of a cooperative spirit of good will and understanding among all peoples—striving for that kind of human brotherhood that is embodied in this little word CIHU—Can I Help You?

The man or woman doesn't live who does not need help of some sort or who does not welcome it.
But it isn't money help for which so many crave. It's help in their personal problems, help to get them on the right track and directed to the right road. Nearly every one of us can point to some particular person or friend who, in the past, has been the means of much of our success and happiness—someone who gave us a boost at the right time.

Many years ago, a friend and I had a breakdown in our car in Florida, twenty miles from the nearest garage. It was getting chilly, the road was almost impassable,
and we were expecting that we might have to spend the night on that spot. But soon another car stopped before us and a man got out and said: "Can I Help You?" He happened to be a car mechanic and soon had us on our way!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Hawaii—A Remembered Poem."

Mr. Galloway: It gives us pleasure to state that our former townsman,

secretary of state in Ohio by the Legislature of that state—receiving 55 votes, his opponent, 47. We wish

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Borough Election: The election for borough officers on Friday passed off quietly, resulting, as usual, in a decisive Republican triumph. The interest centered mainly in the contest for constable. We are requested by Mr. Crilly to say, what we believe is the fact, that he did not desire an election and expressed his determination not to accept if elected. The vote was as follows:

Burgess
C. H. Buehler, Rep., 249; H.
Chritzman, Dem., 157.

Town Council
J. W. Cress, Rep., 241; John Wei-rich, Dem., 168; Robert Tate, Rep., 215; Jacob Keiley, Dem., 168.

Judge
Jeremiah Culp, Rep., 232; Samuel Wolf, Dem., 168.

Married: Chronister—Haines—On the 4th inst., by J. C. Pittturti, Esq., Mr. Jacob H. Chronister, of Reading township, to Miss Alice J.
Haines, of Huntingdon township.

It is stated that the National Guard regiment of Philadelphia propose to take their summer holiday by a pilgrimage to Gettysburg and a week of camp duty.

We notice by the Chambersburg papers that Mr. Calvin Gilbert, formerly of Gettysburg, has purchased the foundry and machine shop of the Chambersburg Building Association for $11,700. Mr. Gilbert has since taken in with him the firm of H. S. Gilbert and Co., and united the agricultural establishment of that firm with the machine shop.

In Pennsylvania the question of women holding office is about to be given a practical solution. Miss Maria L. Sanford, a young lady who has been teaching public school in Chester county, is urged for county superintendent of common schools.
There is nothing in the laws of the state preventing a woman from holding office, and she is strongly supported for the position.

Concord, New Hampshire, gives partial recognition to the rights of women, by electing two female school directors.

Changes: Quite a number of changes in places of business will be made this spring. Mr. T. C.
Norris has already removed his ready-made clothing store to Ar-

Mr. R. C. Shoben will remove his hat and shoe store to the building

42 GOVERNORS
ANSWER FDR'S
QUIZ ON BALLOT

Washington, March 20 (AP)— Forty-two governors have replied to President Roosevelt's query about service voting and the trend of their opinion appears to be that state ballots distributed under the federal machinery would give a vote to most service men and women.

Virtually all the governors emphasized that their states want the fighting forces to vote. Many expressed the belief that state ballot provisions are adequate if the government will undertake to get those ballots overseas.

Mr. Roosevelt had inquired whether the states would accept Federal ballots from the armed forces. Six governors replied affirmatively for the states of California, Maryland, North Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Kansas.

The governors of 13 states said no legislative action is planned to validate Federal ballots even if the President signs the bill and indicated State legislation would meet the service vote problem. These states were Iowa, Idaho, Illinois, Georgia, Virginia, Mississippi, West Virginia, Arizona, Wisconsin, Colorado, Minnesota, Ohio and Montana.

Martin's Answer
Many governors were noncommittal and the White House said no replies had been received from South Carolina, Tennessee, Michigan, Texas, Wyoming or Oregon, at the time the general report of the poll was made.

President Roosevelt has left no doubt that his decision either to accept or veto the Federal ballot measure would hinge on the question of whether more service personnel would vote under it than under the 1942 law which merely waived state registration and poll tax requirements, leaving absentee balloting entirely to the states.

Gov. Edward Martin, of Pennsylvania, said it was his desire to take whatever "appropriate action is necessary before July 15 to afford all our men and women in the armed services the opportunity to vote."

Letters To
The Editor

Dear Sir:
It is with the greatest pleasure that I am writing this letter to you. I want to thank you for sending me The Gettysburg Times. When a fellow gets away from home, he reads every bit of news from his home town that he can find, even though advertisements contain some interest. You are truthfully doing a great service to "Our Country" by building the boys' morale. Yes, you are helping to build our morale.
Those little things, such as a local paper and letters from home, may seem insignificant to you, but to us,
they are important.

I have just completed a seven-week course in Aerial Gunnery at Kingman, Arizona, which is on the edge of the Mohave desert, and I am telling you now that the Gettysburg Times was a choice piece of mail for me.

I also want to notify you of my change of address. I am now attending Central Instructors School here at Fort Myers, Florida. When I complete this course, I will be sent to some other field to be an instructor, in aerial gunnery.

Again I want to thank you for sending me The Gettysburg Times.
Respectfully yours,
Cpl. Robert J. Bringham,
1178th F.G.T.S. (C.I.S. 44-16)
B.A.A.F., Ft. Myers, Florida.

Dear Sir:
I have been transferred to the Western Kentucky State Teachers college, Bowling Green, Kentucky.
This is a very nice college and located on a beautiful hill. The weather is warm and there is no need for a coat. The Easter lilies are out in bloom and so are the violets and spice wood and other early flowers.

I have seen farmers plowing and getting ready for the spring seeding.
The robins and other birds are flying around every place and by the smell of the green vegetation you know that spring is here.

Thanks a lot for the "Times," it is full of news from back home and news from the high school.

Sincerely yours,
A/S Clark H. Nitchman,

WAVE Cleared Of

Twenty-two year old Edith Toy

"Maybe I'll get married after all," the former WAVE smiled after Anchange in his cabinet since he was inaugurated in January, 1943, if Samuel Y. Ramage, of Oil City, secretary of Public Assistance, gets into the Army.

Ramage, 34, disclosed he was re-

In event of a vacancy in the $10,000 cabinet post, an authorized

Harrisburg, March 18 (AP)—The

SIMPLIFIED TAX
PLAN PRAISED AND ASSAILED

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Acclaimed generally on Capitol Hill as the small taxpayers' dream come true, a plan to boil down the income tax laws was assailed by Rep. Curtis (R-Neb.) today as containing an "unfair and immoral" provision.

Curtis, a member of the special House Republican committee on taxes, voiced the first dissident words since the Ways and Means committee made the plan public last week. He said he heartily approved the objective of freeing some 30-000,000 taxpayers from having to wrestle with another income tax report.

But he roundly denounced a provision allowing every taxpayer a deduction of 10 per cent of income subject to withholding taxes to offset allowances for contributions to religious, charitable and similar

"A Great Boon" Declaring a blanket deduction "is unfair and immoral," Curtis said:
"It is fundamentally wrong to

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, ranking Republican on the tax-

WORK RESUMED

Greensburg, Pa., March 20 (AP)—
Normal operations at the Walforth
Co. resumed last night upon settlement of what was described by Supt. C. L. Kane as a dispute between the local union and the international office of the CIO-United Steel Workers. The work stoppage briefly halted production of Navy orders for valves and other equipment.

Lady Motorman
Can Use Her Fists

Philadelphia, March 20 (AP)— Harry Boyle, 58, nursed a swollen jaw and faced an assault charge today following an encounter with a lady motorman.

Mrs. Anna Houghton, a 34-year-old powerfully built brunette, told police Boyle was asleep when her trolley reached the end of the line.
"I shook him to wake him up,"
she said, "and he woke up fighting."
"Did he hit you?"
"A couple of times—until I let him have it."

Boyle, who was held in $500 bail for a hearing today, said he "had a bad dream and didn't know where I was."

WARNING ISSUED
ON CORN BORERS

Harrisburg, March 20 (AP)— Pennsylvania farmers and Victory gardeners were strongly advised today to destroy all plant rubbish before April 15 because of an "alarming" spread of corn borers.

Growers "can expect worst possible destruction and perhaps no sweet corn" this season unless they cleanup. Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst and Mrs. H. B. Ellison, state Victory garden chairman, said in a statement.

"The corn borers are still alive in the stalks and the stubble, for they live through the winter," the statement added.

Farmers, the officials said, should shred all fodder and plow under all stubble and stalks to a depth of six inches or more.

Individual effort is not enough,
Horst asserted, adding that "it must be a guided effort over an entire county."

The state's Agricultural Adjustment Agency committee, in another announcement, said a $3.50 per-acre bonus would be paid Pennsylvania farmers for cutting and harvesting alfalfa and clover seeds—needed to grow crops essential for milk production.

FAMILIES FLEE FIRE

Pittsburgh, March 20 (AP)—Fire forced 30 families to flee their homes yesterday in sub-freezing weather and two firemen suffered injuries in battling a blaze which damaged a row of dwellings at Mc-Kees Rocks. Fire Chief Charles Winesky estimated damage at $7,000. He and Hoseman George Schuster were overcome in the fire-fighting.

Ponape and Kusaie in the eastern Caroline Islands and three undesignated atolls in the eastern Marshalls.

A major battle apparently is shaping up in the Chindwin front in Burma. Large Japanese forces have crossed the Chindwin river, a south-east Asia communiqué reported, and are driving on Imphal which guards an approach to the Indian border.

But in the north central sector of Myitkyina, gliderborne Allied troops have expanded their holdings around their two airfields in heavy fighting with chagrined Japanese.

Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese and American soldiers in the north have cleaned out Hukwang valley and are striking at a pass leading into important Mogaung valley.

recognized Thomas floating in the river with the aid of a bus seat cushion. Pavlick obtained a long-handled broom and rushed to the edge of the water, where he passed an end of the broom to Thomas and towed him to the bank.

When he told Thomas to climb out, however, the foreman said, "I can't. Both my legs are broken."

Pavlick then jumped in, pushed Thomas out and went to the aid of a woman who was floating on a ladder thrown in by firemen.

Saved By Rafts
Charles Naznasky, another United States Rubber worker, was taken to a hospital suffering from exposure after he had gone to the aid of a man in the water. He got the man by the hair, Naznasky related, but had to let go when the intense cold caused cramps in his arms and legs. He barely saved himself.

Craig Melinger, a life raft maker, said he saw "at least ten people in the water," four of whom were saved with boards tossed to them from the raft department.

Stanley Kowalski of Garfield brought out two women after jumping into the water.

30 TRAPPED AS BUS SKIDS OFF BRIDGE; 7 SAVED

Passaic, N. J., March 20 (AP)—A bus plunged from a bridge into the Passaic river during a sleet storm today and seven rescued occupants estimated that nine to 30 other persons were inside the submerged vehicle.

The estimate of nine came from a bay, with adults putting the figure at 15 to 30.

Employees of a Riverside factory making life rafts for the war tossed finished rafts out windows and into the stream to facilitate rescue work, while Nicholas Mulick of Wallington, a fellow worker, dove into the icy water and helped three survivors ashore.

Those saved were assisted from an emergency door.

Port of New York authorities started a derrick barge to the scene in an effort to raise the bus.

The bus had travelled the length of Passaic and was bound into Wallington and Wood-Ridge, site of a huge airplane engine plant.

It skidded on the bridge and ripped down about 30 feet of guard rail before it dropped into the channel, recently deepened.

The accident occurred about 8 a. m.

Pedestrian Hit

First identified victim of the accident was a pedestrian knocked from the bridge into the river. One of the seven saved was Leroy W. Thomas, general foreman of the United States Rubber company plant, whose employees played major roles in the rescue work.

Stanley Pavlick of Wallington, related that he heard the crash, looked from a window in the plant and

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart

Chapter 1

In the Cafe Dragon Rouge facing the Cour de Dragon in a byway of the Boulevard St. German, Adrienne Girard, slender and trim in her waitress costume, was diverted for a moment from her task of collecting the dishes left by a departing patron. Her attention had been caught by the entrance of a young man who wore a somewhat shabby suit, a soft-felt hat pulled down over his forehead, and walked with a slight limp toward a table near which Adrienne stood; and when he had removed his hat, she noticed a piece of adhesive tape on his forehead.

Immediately she approached him, offering the menu card.

"Bonjour Monsieur. What does Monsieur desire?"

He glanced up at her, and as his eyes, blue grey with a challenging directness, held her for a moment, she observed that he looked haggard and drawn. The grim lines of his face suddenly relaxed into a whimsical smile.

"It's a case, Mamselle, not of what I desire, but what I can pay for."

He spoke in French, but her quick ear instantly detected a slight foreign accent. She smiled in response and lowering her voice, said, "You are English?"

"Well, you've guessed nearly right," he answered. "I'm an American, and in a bit of trouble just now."

She pushed the menu towards him again.

"You order what you like, M'sieu." She spoke softly in English. "You are among friends with us, but be careful what you say—for they, the Boches, are everywhere."

She broke off suddenly on catching sight of a man entering the cafe. He was burly with a red, heavy jawed face.

"He is coming now," she whispered, "the Gestapo agent. Speak as little as possible. The turbot à la creme and kidneys in white wine are excellent." She now was speaking in French. "There is also the grillade. And we serve red and white wine."

He selected the grillade and white wine, looking up at her with a quick understanding glance.

30 TRAPPED AS BUS SKIDS OFF BRIDGE; 7 SAVED

Passaic, N. J., March 20 (AP)—A bus plunged from a bridge into the Passaic river during a sleet storm today and seven rescued occupants estimated that nine to 30 other persons were inside the submerged vehicle.

The estimate of nine came from a boy, with adults putting the figure at 15 to 30.

Employees of a Riverside factory making life rafts for the war tossed finished rafts out windows and into the stream to facilitate rescue work, while Nicholas Mulick of Wallington, a fellow worker, dove into the icy water and helped three survivors ashore.

Those saved were assisted from an emergency door.

Port of New York authorities started a derrick barge to the scene in an effort to raise the bus.

The bus had travelled the length of Passaic and was bound into Wallington and Wood-Ridge, site of a huge airplane engine plant.

It skidded on the bridge and ripped down about 30 feet of guard rail before it dropped into the channel, recently deepened.

The accident occurred about 8 a. m.

Pedestrian Hit
First identified victim of the accident was a pedestrian knocked from the bridge into the river. One of the seven saved was Leroy W. Thomas, general foreman of the United States Rubber company plant, whose employees played major roles in the rescue work.

Stanley Pavlick of Wallington, related that he heard the crash, looked from a window in the plant and recognized Thomas floating in the river with the aid of a bus seat cushion. Pavlick obtained a long-handled broom and rushed to the edge of the water, where he passed an end of the broom to Thomas and towed him to the bank.

When he told Thomas to climb out, however, the foreman said, "I can't. Both my legs are broken." Pavlick then jumped in, pushed Thomas out and went to the aid of a woman who was floating on a ladder thrown in by firemen.

Saved By Rafts
Charles Naznasky, another United States Rubber worker was taken to a hospital suffering from exposure after he had gone to the aid of a man in the water. He got the man by the hair, Naznasky related, but had to let go when the intense cold caused cramps in his arms and legs. He barely saved himself.

Craig Mellinger, a life raft maker, said he saw "at least ten people in the water," four of whom were saved with boards tossed to them from the raft department.

Stanley Kowalski of Garfield brought out two women after jumping into the water.

Perfect rubies are much rarer than good diamonds.

He looked up at her sharply, but she evaded his glance, and lifting her tray of dishes carried it away.

The frequent visits of this man to the cafe were a disturbing factor in Adrienne's daily work. First because she was aware that his business was to maintain a strict espionage on the patrons of the cafe, and to place on his black list the name of any one whose conduct aroused the least suspicion in his mind since the recent shooting of a Nazi officer; and secondly because she knew that she attracted him.

Though his advances repelled her, she did not think it advisable to rebuff him utterly. She felt certain that Herr Schafer suspected and disliked Raoul de Lamothe, whose departure from the cafe had been just prior to the stranger's entry, and she had warned Raoul against him.

Immediately she approached him, offering the menu card.

"Bonjour Monsieur. What does Monsieur desire?"

He glanced up at her, and as his eyes, blue gray with a challenging directness, held her for a moment, she observed that he looked haggard and drawn. The grim lines of his face suddenly relaxed into a whimsical smile.

"It's a case, M'anselle, not of what I desire, but what I can pay for."

He spoke in French, but her quick ear instantly detected a slight foreign accent. She smiled in response and lowering her voice, said, "You are English?"

"Well, you've guessed nearly right," he answered. "I'm an American, and in a bit of trouble just now."

She pushed the menu towards him again.

"You order what you like, M'anselle. You spoke softly in English. You are among friends with me, but be careful what you say—for they, the Boches, are everywhere."

She broke off suddenly on catching sight of a man entering the cafe. He was burly with a red, heavy jawed face.

"He is coming now," she whispered. "The Gestapo agent. Speak as little as possible. The turbot a la creme and kidneys in white wine are excellent." She now was speaking in French. "There is also the grillade. And we serve red and white wine."

He selected the grillade and white wine, looking up at her with a quick understanding glance.

Adrienne crossed to the adjoining table where Heinrich Schafer, the agent, had seated himself.

"Bonjour Mademoiselle." The agent's deep voice grated on her ears. "And what do you recommend today for a hungry man?"

"There is boeuf a la mode or escalopes de veau with cream and mushrooms."

She commenced hurriedly to remove the dishes from the table.

"Bring me boeuf a la mode, with a bottle of beer, and be quick about it, M'anselle. I'm a busy man."

He attempted to atone for the curtness of his tones by the twinkle of his eyes.

"No one would doubt that, Monsieur," she returned, her cool poise undisturbed, and a thinly veiled irony underlying her tones.

"Your duties must require constant vigilance."

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart

Chapter 1

In the Cafe Dragon Rouge facing the Cour de Dragon in a byway of the Boulevard St. German, Adrienne Girard, slender and trim in her waitress costume, was diverted for a moment from her task of collecting the dishes left by a departing patron. Her attention had been caught by the entrance of a young man who wore a somewhat shabby suit, a soft felt hat pulled down over his forehead, and walked with a slight limp toward a table near which Adrienne stood; and when he had removed his hat, she noticed a piece of adhesive tape on his forehead.

He looked up at her sharply, but she evaded his glance, and lifting her tray of dishes carried it away.

The frequent visits of this man to the cafe were a disturbing factor in Adrienne's daily work. First because she was aware that his business was to maintain a strict espionage on the patrons of the cafe, and to place on his black list the name of any one whose conduct aroused the least suspicion in his mind since the recent shooting of a Nazi officer; and secondly because she knew that she attracted him.

Philadelphia, March 20 (AP)—A tractor-trailer loaded with $30,000 worth of fabrics consigned to war plant was found with its cargo intact here yesterday, more than 24 hours after it was stolen from Delaware Transportation company.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, March 20 (AP)—The announcement by A. T. & T. that it is getting ready to try out intercity radio relays for long distance television programs could be regarded as possibly forecasting the future of the radio telephone for the home and street. Yes, even the television telephone.

While these can come only in the orderly progress of development, they are practical. The television-telephone has been in the minds of engineers for years.

A concrete example of seeing the person at the other end of the phone came in the '30's when the Bell laboratories put on a series of demonstrations of a two-way television-telephone which linked by wire two points a mile or so apart.

Pocket Phones

As to prospects of the radio telephone becoming the same everyday unit as the present telephone, there have been forecasts that in the future even the man on the street might have his own pocket phone by which he could make calls through a central office much as is done today by wire.

For its first radio relay for telephoning, A. T. & T., awaiting approval by the Federal Communications Commission and progress of the war, proposed to spend $2,000,000 for a link between New York, Boston and intermediate points.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 20 (AP)—When the suggestion was advanced last winter that something ought to be done to make emergency trading easier, the club owners just howled "No syndicate baseball" and let it go. . . . But it looks as if those emergencies requiring quick action already were at hand. . . . The Yankees, with Bill Dickey in the Navy and Rolfe Hensley on the farm, had to scurry around for catchers and came up with Joe Glenn, also Navy bound, Mike Garbar and Eugene Bob Collins, whose train to camp was somewhat late. . . . The Dodgers, with inadequate replacements for Mickey Owen, who will make frequent trips to his farm, expect to put Scout Clyde Sukeforth into action behind the plate. . . . But the Giants, counting a couple of veterans who haven't signed, six on the Jersey city roster and a couple who turned up for tryouts, can call on an even dozen receivers. . . . Looks like something must be out of balance.

DECOY DE MCCOY

Rush Brown, a Sioux Falls, South Dakota, fisherman, claims this stunt works if you're interested only in catching large fish. . . . Rush secured a large mounted pickerel, weighted it and attached a stout cord; then he headed for a spot where he knew the big ones hung out. . . . On arrival, Brown lowered the stuffed fish some eight feet under the boat and all the little ones, fearful of being gobbled up, left those parts and didn't return. . . . Rush claims he didn't hook a small fish all day but did catch several pickerel about the size of the reverse decoy.

MONDAY MATINEE

The Utah basketball team that plays Kentucky in the Garden tonight is the youngest and tallest the college ever had, averaging just above 19 years old and 6-3 in height. . . . It also boasts the first pair of twins in the Utah Athletic history, Bob and Fred Lewis. . . . Lester Lautenschlaeger, former Tulane footballer, has been elected president of the New Orleans Junior Sports association, which aims to provide athletics for all kids. . . . In case you didn't know, hockey players whose teams make the national league playoffs are guaranteed at least as much pay per game as they get during the regular season. . . . Gil Dadds won't run in the Brooklyn Red Cross track meet Saturday because he's due to race in Cleveland the night before and has promised to preach in his father's church at Smithville, Ohio, Sunday.

WEATHER DELAYS

Charlotte, N. C., March 20 (AP)—A cold, steady rain put a new face on the $10,000 Charlotte open golf tournament, presently in charge of Sgt. Ernest Joseph "Dutch" Harrison of the Army Air Forces.

Harrison, a 20 to 1 shot, batted out scorching rounds of 66, lowest of the tournament, and 70 to lead the field after 36 holes with 136.

Yesterday it came up mud, hurting the leader Arkansas's chances of being the first member of the armed forces to cop a major golf prize and forcing a postponement of the 36-hole final.

The tournament committee decided to halve the 36-hole final into 18 holes today and 18 tomorrow, the weather permitting, since the pros have no other engagement before the Durham open, starting Friday.

Though a win for Dutch would be tremendously popular, he prefers a fast dry course and the odds layers are still picking Jug McSpaden and Byron Nelson as favorites for first prize, a $2,000 war bond.

Plumber Is Convicted Of 2nd Degree Murder

Uniontown, Pa., March 20 (AP)—Herbert Schomer, 39-year-old Connellsville plumber, today faced a prison sentence after his conviction of second degree murder in the stabbing death of Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Dummick, 22, his housekeeper, last Jan. 4.

A jury of nine women and three men returned the verdict Saturday night with a recommendation of mercy.

Three games tomorrow night will whittle to eight the number of high schools still in the running for the basketball championship of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association.

The state Catholic schoolboy title was decided Saturday night when Philadelphia Southeast Catholic trounced Johnstown 38-20 before 5,300 in Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

The two-schools that established district supremacy Saturday night, Hazleton and Swoyersville, hold first round byes. They meet Friday, probably at Hershey, in the Eastern semi-final.

SPORT SHORTS

Mexico City, March 20 (AP)—Manuel Salvatierra, formerly with Muskogee of the Western association, hit two homers and a triple yesterday to enable Mexico City to beat Rogers Hornsby's Vera Cruz team, 6 to 4, in a Mexico League game.

New York, March 20 (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Florence Schmitt retained her metropolitan senior indoor AAU 440-yard swimming championship in a Sunday meet. Her time was 5:38.6.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 20 (APP)—Syracuse university, out of the intercollegiate grid picture since 1942 due to the War Department rule barring Army trainees from competition, will conduct football practice this spring.

In announcing the decision, Lew Andreas, director of athletics, emphasized yesterday that resumption of a fall schedule depends on how things shape up at the spring drills.

"We plan to explore all possibilities and we don't intend to make a hasty decision one way or the other," Andreas said.

Chicago, March 20 (AP)—The sixth annual professional basketball tournament to select a team to oppose the college All-stars will get underway tonight at the Chicago stadium.

Fourteen quintets are entered, with the Fort Wayne Zollners, winners of the National professional league title, the New York Renaissance and the Harlem globetrotters standing as pre-tourney favorites.

The opening round will find the Dayton (Ohio) aviators facing the Akron (Ohio) collegians; the Brooklyn Eagles vs. the Camp Campbell (Ky) Tankmen; and the New York Rens vs. the Detroit Suffrins.

ELLWOOD CITY WINS

Pittsburgh, March 20 (AP)—Ellwood City high school won the 1944 WPAL gymnastics championship by making 49 points in the meet here Saturday, 19 more than Ambleridge high which came in second. Sewickley was third, Latrobe fourth and Tarentum fifth.

"Hammerin' Henry" Favored Tonight

Washington, March 20 (AP)—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, former holder of three title crowns, ruled a top-heavy favorite to defeat Frankie Willis of Washington in their scheduled 10-round scrap here tonight.

The boys will weigh in at around 145 for the welterweight bout.

Washington's warring fraternity were laying odds of 3-1 on Armstrong, now engaged in his third comeback attempt. Willis, an unpredictable fighter, usually looks best against tough opposition, however, and his backers claim he will give "little perpetual motion" a tough go.

TRACK IS HOBBY FOR DODDS; WINS 7TH SATURDAY

Chicago, March 20 (AP)—"I don't get very tired; my legs just won't carry me any faster," explains Gil Dadds, the modest little Divinity student who has lowered the competitive world indoor mile record twice in two weeks and won seven consecutive mile races this season.

In his latest achievement—winning the bankers' mile in 4:06.4 last Saturday at the Chicago relays—Dadds overcame two mental hazards.

One was what he describes as the unpredictable running style of rival Bill Hulise. The other, his own fear of treading too close to the inside edge of the raised oval board track and either falling into the infield or being thrown off stride.

Won By 20 Yards

The Boston parson's apprehension concerning Hulise, he explained stemmed from a meet earlier this season. The New York A. C. Star, credited with a 4:06 outdoor mile, jogged along in the lead increasing his speed only when Dadds attempted to pass him. After several efforts, Dadds succeeded, but meanwhile he had spent some uneasy moments.

He was afraid that might happen again Saturday—and that Hulise might have enough steam left to shove him off. As it happened, Hulise led for one lap, trailed by two yards for the next nine, then faded as Dadds put on a scorching finish to win by 20 yards.

Dadds preached a sermon yesterday at Goshen, Ind., church.

Scheduled to run again Friday at Cleveland, he says track is merely a hobby, subordinate to his life mission—preaching the gospel.

OTT, LINDELL RECEIVE CALLS FOR PHYSICALS

By TED MEIER

New York, March 20 (AP)—The New York Giants may have a new manager by the time the baseball season opens.

Their present leader, 35-year-old Mel Ott, announced yesterday he would take his pre-induction physical examination at Camden, New Jersey, next Monday and that he was positive he would be accepted.

Ott, who like Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians, was classified 1-A several months ago, was first notified to report for his physical at Metairie, Louisiana, March 23, but obtained permission to take the test with the next group of scientists from Lakewood, New Jersey, site of the Giants' spring training camp.

To date Boudreau has not been called for his exam.

Outfielder Johnny Lindell of the New York Yankees also received orders yesterday at Atlantic City to report for a physical. Lindell, whose football slide into third base in the eighth inning of the third game of the world series last fall started the Yanks on the way to victory, was supposed to report today at his Temple City, California draft board. He said he asked that the test be shifted to Atlantic City.

RD PROGRAMS
New York, March 20 (AP)—The announcement by A. T. & T. that it is getting ready to try out intercity radio relays for long distance telephoning and the handling of television programs could be regarded as possibly forecasting the future day of the radio telephone for the home and street. Yes, even the television telephone.
While these can come only in the orderly progress of development, they are practical. The television-telephone has been in the minds of engineers for years.
A concrete example of seeing the person at the other end of the phone came in the '30s when the Bell laboratories put on a series of demonstrations of a two-way television-telephone which lined by wire two points a mile or so apart.
Pocket Phones
As to prospects of the radio telephone becoming the same everyday unit as the present telephone, there have been forecasts that in the future even the man on the street might have his own pocket phone by which he could make calls through a central office much as is done today by wire.
For its first radio relay for telephoning, A. T. & T., awaiting approval by the Federal Communications Commission and progress of the war, proposed to spend $2,000,000 for a link between New York, Boston and intermediate points.

Weather Delays Golf Tournament
Charlotte, N. C., March 20 (AP)—A cold, steady rain put a new face on the $10,000 Charlotte open golf tournament, presently in charge of Sgt. Ernest Joseph "Dutch" Harrison of the Army Air Forces.
Harrison, a 20 to 1 shot, batted out scorching rounds of 66, lowest of the tournament, and 70 to lead the field after 36 holes with 136.
Yesterday it came up mud, hurting the leader Arkansas's chances of being the first member of the armed forces to cop a major golf prize and forcing a postponement of the 36-hole final.
The tournament committee decided to have the 36-hole finale into 18 holes today and 18 tomorrow, the weather permitting, since the pros have no other engagement before the Durham open, starting Friday.
Though a win for Dutch would be tremendously popular, he prefers a fast dry course and the odds layers are still picking Jug McSpaden and Byron Nelson as favorites for first prize, a $2,000 war bond.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, March 20 (AP)—When the suggestion was advanced last winter that something ought to be done to make emergency trading easier, the club owners just howled "No syndicate baseball" and let it go.
But it looks as if those emergencies requiring quick action already were at hand.
The Yankees, with Bill Dickey in the Navy and Rolfe Hemsley on the farm, had to scurry around for catchers and came up with Joe Glenn, also Navy bound, Mike Garbar and Engineer Bob Collins, whose train to camp was somewhat late.
The Dodgers, with inadequate replacements for Mickey Owen, who will make frequent trips to his farm, expect to put Scout Clyde Sukeforth into action behind the plate.
But the Giants, counting a couple of veterans who haven't signed, six on the Jersey city roster and a couple who turned up for tryouts, can call on an even dozen receivers. Looks like something must be out of balance.
DECOY DE MCCOY
Rush Brown, a Sioux Falls, South Dakota, fisherman, claims this stunt works if you're interested only in catching large fish.
Rush secured a large mounted pickerel, weighted it and attached a stout cord; then he headed for a spot where he knew the big ones hung out.
On arrival, Brown lowered the stuffed fish some eight feet under the boat and all the little ones, fearful of being gobbled up, left those parts and didn't return.
Rush claims he didn't hook a small fish all day but did catch several pickerel about the size of the reverse decoy.

MONDAY MATINEE
The Utah basketball team that plays Kentucky in the Garden tonight is the youngest and tallest the college ever had, averaging just above 19 years old and 6-3 in height.
It also boasts the first pair of twins in the Utah Athletic history, Bob and Fred Lewis.
Lester Lautenschlaeger, former Tulane footballer, has been elected president of the New Orleans Junior Sports association, which aims to provide athletics for all kids.
In case you didn't know, hockey players whose teams make the national league playoffs are guaranteed at least as much pay per game as they get during the regular season.
Gil Dadds won't run in the Brooklyn Red Cross track meet Saturday because he's due to race in Cleveland the night before and has promised to preach in his father's church at Smithville, Ohio, Sunday.

Hockey Playoffs To Open Tonight
(By The Associated Press)
Hershey repelled Buffalo's late season threat to win the Eastern division championship of the American Hockey league and now faces Cleveland's Western division kings in the annual playoffs that open tomorrow night.
The central Pennsylvania team made certain of the eastern title by beating the Bisons, 3 to 2, on Saturday night.
In the opening clashes of the semi-final best four of seven playoff competition tomorrow Hershey will play at Cleveland while Indianapolis, runnerup in the west, plays at Buffalo, runnerup in the east.
The winners of these two series will clash in a similar series for the league championship.
In the final regular season league games last night Hershey came from behind a 3-0 deficit to earn a 4-4 tie with Buffalo on the Buffalo ice while Indianapolis made it two in a row over Cleveland by beating the Barons, 4-1, at Indianapolis. Pete Horeck's goal in the last 19 seconds of play averted a Cleveland shutout.

Ford Lowers World Time On 100-Yd. Swim
New Haven, Conn., March 20 (AP)—Bob Kiputh, Yale and Olympic coach, snapped the jigger closing his stopwatch as Alan Ford, his great swimmer, ended a 100-yard free style sprint. Usually calm, the stocky Kiputh's eyes popped at what he saw. Nervously, he slid into the background while the official timers went into a huddle.
Neither he, nor Ford, the 20-year-old, rusty-haired Balboa, Canal Zone bullet had to wait long. Grinning, but plainly excited, the announcer reported that Alan had lowered his own world's century record to 0:49.7 seconds.
And while a capacity crowd of 2100 cheered, Kiputh, no longer restrained, rushed to Ford, kissed him on the cheek and embraced the likeable lad.
Professors Urge Death For Japs
Philadelphia, March 20 (AP)—Two University of Pennsylvania professors advocate death for Japanese militarists after the war.
"Military secret societies like the Black Dragon have terrorized decent governments in Japan for the last 25 years," said Dr. C. S. Gardner, who teaches Chinese to Army trainees in a forum broadcast (WIP) yesterday.
He joined Dr. Derk Bodde, assistant professor of Chinese studies, in urging speedy execution of war-mind Japanese leaders.

MARION MAY BE LOST TO CARDS THROUGH DRAFT
Cairo, Ill., March 20 (AP)—The National League champion St. Louis Cardinals had one major uncertainty—question of Martin Marion—as they opened spring training today in preparation for another war time season which may, in time, develop a host of other replacement problems.
Right now, however, the star shortstop's indecision about reporting for baseball, because of a likely call for limited service with the Army overshadowed the future's possibilities and made him the player most missed in the team's initial workout.
Club officials do not detract from the importance of the 6-foot 2-inch infielder to the Cardinals' scheme of things. President Sam Breadon made his only pessimistic statement about baseball's outlook a month or so ago, when it first was announced Marion had been reclassified 1A.
Need Twin Killings
The Cardinals middle-of-the-infield, no matter what rookie plays second base, would be tightly defended if Marion was there covering a world of ground at shortstop. Without him, it is doubtful whether any available keystone combination will be able to come up consistently with those all-important double plays.
This does not mean the Cardinals are unprepared for Marion's departure. For one, they have Ora Burnett, Sacramento recruit, who is described as a fine prospect. And while the name of Al Schoendienst does not appear on the roster, he is the team's ace in the hole. The brilliant youngster will be brought up from Rochester if Marion is called for Army service.

Fourteen players answered Manager Billy Southworth's call for the opening workout. They were pitchers Max Lanier and Alvin Jurisch; catchers Walker Cooper and Sam Narron; infielders Johnny Hopp and Whitey Kurovski, and outfielders Stan Musial, August Bergam, Debs Garms and Danny Litwhiler; pitchers Harry Brethauer, Eldred (Bud) Byerly, infielder Emil Verban; outfielder Pepper Martin.

"Hammerin' Henry" Favored Tonight
Washington, March 20 (AP)—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, former holder of three flistic crowns, ruled a top-heavy favorite to defeat Frankie Wills of Washington in their scheduled 10-round scrap here tonight.
The boys will weigh in at around 145 for the welterweight bout.
Washington's warring fraternity were laying odds of 3-1 on Armstrong, now engaged in his third comeback attempt. Wills, an unpredictable fighter, usually looks best against tough opposition, however, and his backers claim he will give "little perpetual motion" a tough go.

TRACK IS HOBBY FOR DODDS; WINS 7TH SATURDAY
Chicago, March 20 (AP)—"I don't get very tired; my legs just won't carry me any faster," explains Gil Dadds, the modest little Divinity student who has lowered the competitive world indoor mile record twice in two weeks and won seven consecutive mile races this season.
In his latest achievement—winning the bankers' mile in 4:06.4 last Saturday at the Chicago relays—Dadds overcame two mental hazards.
One was what he describes as the unpredictable running style of rival Bill Hulse. The other, his own fear of treading too close to the inside edge of the raised oval board track and either falling into the infield or being thrown off stride.
The Boston parson's apprehension concerning Hulse, he explained stemmed from a meet earlier this season. The New York A. C. Star, credited with a 4:06 outdoor mile, jogged along in the lead increasing his speed only when Dadds attempted to pass him. After several efforts, Dadds succeeded, but meanwhile he had spent some uneasy moments.
He was afraid that might happen again Saturday—and that Hulse might have enough steam left to stave him off. As it happened, Hulse led for one lap, trailed by two yards for the next nine, then faded as Dadds put on a scorching finish to win by 20 yards.
Dadds preached a sermon yesterday at Goshen, Ind., church.
Scheduled to run again Friday at Cleveland, he says track is merely a hobby, subordinate to his first mission—preaching the gospel.

OTT, LINDELL RECEIVE CALLS FOR PHYSICALS
By TED MEIER
New York, March 20 (AP)—The New York Giants may have a new manager by the time the baseball season opens.
Their present leader, 35-year-old Mel Ott, announced yesterday he would take his pre-induction physical examination at Camden, New Jersey, next Monday and that he was positive he would be accepted.
Ott, who like Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians, was classified 1-A several months ago, was first notified to report for his physical at Metairie, Louisiana, March 23, but obtained permission to take the test with the next group of selectees from Lakewood, New Jersey, site of the Giants' spring training camp.
To date Boudreau has not been called for his exam.
Outfielder Johnny Lindell of the New York Yankees also received orders yesterday at Atlantic City to report for a physical. Lindell, whose football slide into third base of the eighth inning of the third game of the world series last fall started the Yanks on the way to victory, was supposed to report today at his Temple City, California draft board. He said he asked that the test be shifted to Atlantic City.
